

Assassin's Attack Ends Life Of Hara, Premier Of Japan

First Commoner to Lead Far Eastern Nation Ends Notable Political Career

STABBED AT RAIL DEPOT
Confirmation of Report is Received by Cable at Department of State

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington — Premier Hara of Japan, is dead, following an attack
of an assassin, the state department
was advised Friday.

The department received this official word from the American embassy
in a Tokyo cablegram timed at 10 o'clock Friday evening.

Word of Hara's death came within an hour after the state department had received an official report from the embassy timed 9 a. m. that the premier had been stabbed by an assassin in the Tokyo railroad station.
The first message stated that Hara
was "dead or dying."

Widely Known
Hara was widely known as the first commoner ever to head the imperial Japanese government. Hara is president of the Seikwaikai party, the party now in power. He was born in 1854 at Morioka. He studied at the foreign language school and at the law college, and took to journalism
as a member of the staff of the Hochi Shimbun. He went to Korea as a newspaper correspondent with Marquis Inoue, in 1882. Later Hara entered the foreign office as consul at Tientsin, was secretary and charge in Paris in 1886 and afterwards Count Matsuo's private secretary
when Matsuo was minister of agriculture and commerce.

Hara was later director of the commercial bureau of the foreign office,
was promoted to vice minister in 1895,
was made minister to Korea in 1896,
when he resigned and became chief editor of the Osaka Mainichi. He became minister of communications in 1900, then chief editor of Osaka Shinto, and minister of the home department under the Satomura cabinet. In 1908 Hara was home minister again and president of the imperial railway board in 1911-1912 and became home minister for the third time in 1913. He was made prime minister in 1918.

Had Political Fights
As the result of the appointment of the Japanese delegates to the Washington conference, Premier Hara has recently had a bitter political fight
with the military party in Japan.
Among the delegates appointed was Admiral Kato, minister of the navy.
In his absence, Premier Hara proposed to act as minister of marine.
This precipitated a political struggle
during which General Yamaguchi, minister of war, informed the premier
that if he attempted to serve as acting navy minister he would resign the war portfolio.

The difficulty over this point arose
from the fact that the Japanese law contains a clause providing that the ministers of the navy and war must be navy or army officers. Furthermore, under Japanese law, these two officials have the right to appeal direct to the emperor, a privilege not enjoyed by the premier himself.

HUNT MORON FOR ATTACK ON CHILD

Girl of Five Years Was Lured
Into Alley and Left in Critical Condition

Milwaukee—An assault upon Dorothy Smith, 5 years old, here Thursday night by a moron, is termed by the police as the most degenerate, cold blooded and cruel ever reported here.
Police Friday, aided by a large number of citizens were searching every alley and street with the hopes of apprehending the man.

The child is reported in a serious condition by attending physicians,
who had little hope of her recovery.
According to the police, the little girl
was lured into an alley between two bars where the assault was committed. She was left in this secluded spot with her clothing torn from her body and would undoubtedly have succumbed there but for the fact that a posse of neighbors, scouring the neighborhood in search of the man,
found her there unconscious.

Every detective and policeman in the city has been ordered to help in the search for the moron.

FOLLOW NEW CLEWS TO CATCH PRIEST MURDERER

By United Press Leased Wire
Lead, S. D.—Authorities turned to new trails Friday in an attempt to find the murderer of Father A. B.
Belknap, Catholic priest. A suspect arrest at Sidney, Neb., was released
when it was found he had no connection with the case.

No trace of Andrew Orlando, strongly suspected of the crime, had been found early Friday. Deputies were searching for him at Edgemoor,
again following a report that he had been seen there.

MINERS' EYES TURN ON PLANS OF OPERATORS

Strike Call is Expected if Injunction is Followed and Check Off Dropped

OWNERS CALL CONFERENCE
Thirty-five Thousand Men Now
Are Idle With More Ready
to Walk Out Any Time

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Spread of the unauthorized strikes of bituminous coal miners has halted Friday pending action by mine owners on the check off injunction.

With approximately 35,000 miners
on strike in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, further walkouts hinged on whether mine operators would abide by the court ruling and refuse to withhold union dues from the miners' pay.

Decision by the operators as to whether they will violate the injunction,
or violate the contract with the miners' union, is expected to be announced in all fields within a week.

Indiana operators were the first to announce they would adhere to the ruling made by Judge A. B. Anderson, and Friday they were faced with practically a complete tieup of operations.

Operators to Meet
The Illinois mine operators will meet in Chicago on Nov. 10 to take action. Although all men were urged to remain at work by Frank Farrington,
head of the union in the Illinois
district, approximately 3,500 walked out at various mines throughout the state.

The annual convention of the Illinois miners will be held at Peoria next week and a further rift in the ranks of the United Mine Workers of America is expected to result when Farrington launches his expected attack on John L. Lewis, president of the organization.

With several thousand men out in Ohio, union officials served notice on the operators that if they refuse to collect union dues by the check off,
a general strike will be called.

Ready to Strike
Miners in Pennsylvania were poised for a strike. Operators in that state have announced they will comply with the injunction.

Union heads at Indianapolis declared they were determined to fight
the injunction with every means within their power.

Steps were taken Friday to file the appeal from Judge Anderson's decision with the United States circuit court of appeals at Chicago.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Officers of the United Mine Workers adopted a policy of watchful waiting Friday in connection with their threatened bituminous coal strike.

POLICE FORCE ON SEA ALWAYS IS NECESSARY

No Attempt Will Be Made at Arms Parley to Completely Disarm Powers

MUST CHECK JAPANESE
General Alliance Will Enable
United States to Stop Fortifying Pacific

By David Lawrence
Copyright 1921 by Post Pub. Co.
(In this fifth of a series of significant dispatches David Lawrence,
the famous Washington correspondent, tells what the naval experts of our government have in mind in connection with "limitation" and "reduction" of armament.)

Washington—Simple words do not always have simple meanings. For instance, the official title of the big conference is "Limitation of Armament."
Popularly the gathering has been called a "disarmament conference."
What's the difference between "disarmament"
and "limitation of armament"? President Harding and his associates have declared they do not believe in complete disarmament—the scrapping of all armies and navies. They believe it impracticable. America would never disarm alone. Nor would the rest of the world be likely to do so. As well might cities agree to abolish fire departments because the number of fires were gradually being diminished.

Mr. Harding feels that a police force is always necessary. In other words
if armament should be reduced it should never pass below the line of domestic safety. But while disarmament is not intended, it is also interesting to reveal the fact that "limitation of armament" has a technical meaning in naval parlance and so has
"reduction of armament." Naval experts have the same attitude as lawyers toward legal phrases. They have reasoned it out that limitation of armament, for instance, means scrapping ships now in service but really obsolete. Each navy has a certain number of vessels. Once they are first line fighting craft. Now they are relegated to the rear, but every nation keeps sailors on them and spends a lot of money in maintenance.
No one nation likes to throw away
these obsolete ships if the other nations keep them. So limitation consists in the scrapping of obsolete ships.
That the scrapping of obsolete ships could be accomplished without any special agreement about new construction. It's the least that the coming conference can do.

Curtail New Construction
As for "reduction of armament,"
this term means actually limiting the new construction to the vessels now building and limiting new appropriate ships only to the replacement of obsolete ships. A special convention or treaty would fix the period of obso-
lence so that a vessel built in 1921
could for example be automatically replaced in 1931 and so on.

But how can armament be limited?
This correspondent has canvassed the talk in terms of relatively few American battleships to many ships. So many fortifications so shall the others. And so on. But the navy men admit that in the end the proposition of strength between the large powers will remain the same. They see no other way out of it. They concede the necessity for a reduction of the financial burden of the United States as the second naval power if not the first. Undoubtedly British policy will be the same. Japan would be prevented from catching up with America or passing the United States
and menacing the British seapower.
Such a stupendous job could really be done by the Japanese however,
would be checked—America and England would stand still and money would be saved. That's about as concrete a program as one hears discussed in Washington.

Need General Alliance
As for coast defenses in the Pacific,
the fortification of strategic bases and all that sort of thing, our military and naval experts talk in terms of preparing for eventualities in the Pacific irrespective of the outcome of the conference on Far Eastern problems. If they had more faith in Japanese pledges, that wouldn't be the case. So in order to hold the military and naval set in America at bay and to keep the same class from running away with the Japanese budget annually, the diplomats will have to make an agreement that will have the potential support not only of the navy of the United States but that of Great Britain and other signatories to the agreement—a general alliance for the common good and against militarism. It's to be a sort of league of nations in the Pacific to prevent the growth of that kind of militarism in the Far East which the late war and its subsequent logic of nations was designed to cure in Europe.

BEER BLANKS TO BE LIMITED IN STATE

Milwaukee—James A. Stone, federal prohibition director of Wisconsin declared Friday that physicians in Wisconsin will be allowed to prescribe a limited number of beer and wine prescriptions. He stated that physicians will be allowed only one book of 100 prescriptions to be issued every 90 days. He interpreted this ruling from the regulations sent out by Washington.

This ruling by Stone sets a limit on the number of prescriptions that can be issued, despite the fact that Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and his Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair announced previously no limit upon the number of prescriptions to be issued would be set.

The ruling comes almost simultaneously with the announcement from Washington that the Joseph Seibel brewing company of this state had been granted a permit for the manufacture and sale of medicinal beer.

EXONERATE DRIVER FOR GIRL'S DEATH IN CRASH

Milwaukee—Charles E. Gavin, charged with manslaughter in the fourth degree in connection with the death of Margaret Ross here several weeks ago when the car he was driving overturned, was found not guilty
when the sealed verdict of the jury
was opened at municipal court here Friday.

Gavin was tried before Judge A. C.
Raeus in municipal court Thursday night and the jury returned the sealed
verdict shortly after the dinner hour
Thursday night.

HOOSIERS SNAP TO "ATEN-SHUN" WHEN FOCH VISITS CITY

Indianapolis — Marshal Pendleton L. Foch brought Indiana to "aten-shun" Friday.

The state snapped to salute as the master strategist of the World war visited Indianapolis.

His Hoosier "buddies" came from all parts of the state to greet him. They paraded miles and miles through the streets in his honor and speakers of distinction paid him tribute.

Strains of "La Marseillaise" mingled with "The Star Spangled Banner" as he left the train. The famous Black Horse troop of Cavalry military academy in platoon led the parade.

This afternoon he dedicated the state county and city war memorial site, laying a Marne river bridge stone as the cornerstone.
The city and state erected him
and treated him as a hero.

Must Guard Against French Arms Parley

Senator Borah Believes Reduction of Navies Should Be Aim of Conference if Substantial Results Are to Be Accomplished.

By Lawrence Martin
By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—There is danger that the arms conference may lead to the same kind of disarmament that took place at Versailles—not disarmament
at all—but understandings which compel universal armaments. Senator Borah of Idaho warned Friday in an interview with the United Press.
This danger would become extremely real and menacing, Borah said, if the French idea of disarming, as expressed by Premier Briand, were allowed to prevail in the conference.

Briand, Borah said, is willing to cut France's army only if the United States and other nations agree to quarantine soldiers to compensate for the reduction.

To avoid any such danger, he said,
the conference should center its efforts on naval disarmament, where there is an opportunity to accomplish substantial results.

"Briand," said Borah, "has upon three separate occasions declared the policy of France with reference to disarmament—that is, land,
air and sea, is to be decided by the conference. He has said that he will consult with representatives of the other nations. France's policy is developed and apparently is not subject to change."

Briand, Borah said, stands not for reducing armaments but simply for redistributing the burden of them.

The titular and actual heads of the British government were known to
have discussed at length the present
situation, it was learned Friday.

The king, whose plea for peace in convoking the Ulster parliament at Belfast opened the way for the present negotiations, was in conference
Thursday night with Premier Lloyd George.

"The titular and actual heads of the British government were known to
have discussed at length the present
situation, it was learned Friday."

"If Sir James Craig, premier of Ulster, remains obdurate against concessions when he confers with Lloyd George here Saturday, it will be possible that moral pressure might be exerted on him from Buckingham palace."

Need to Expand
Asked about the supposed need of Japan, Prince Tokugawa declared:
"Our population is increasing. As our opportunities increase, it will be necessary for us to find somewhere in the world to expand—I don't wish to mention any particular country, I do not mean by this territorial expansion but only economic expansion."

He was then asked if he thought there was danger of war between the United States and Japan.

"Is not this talk of war between Japan and the United States a bit imagination? It is quite true that misunderstandings go on, even between intimate friends and nations, persons might become enemies. I don't mean Japan and the United States particularly but any nations.
I, myself, do not have any fear of war between Japan and the United States."

"I adore peace. I do not like war,
I may say, however, that I am not one who would support peace at any price."

BOYCE IS NEW HEAD OF STATE MENTORS

State Convention in Milwaukee
Is to Vote on Substitute
Constitution

Milwaukee—Thomas W. Boyce, elementary school principal, Asa-ke, was elected president of the Wisconsin Teachers' association by such a large majority here Thursday night
on the first ballot, that the regular election which was to have been held Friday was dispensed with. Boyce received a vote of 1,616; F. S. Hyer, 484; T. E. Sanders, 17 and Dr. Samuel Plantz, 19.

The substitute constitution backed solidly by the Milwaukee teachers
was accepted by the committee
Thursday night and will be submitted to the vote of the teachers Friday.

The new constitution provides for a paid secretary to be recommended by the executive committee and appointed by the representative assembly. The assembly also is to elect all officers. The presenting of the new constitution was expected to result in another spirited battle this year, since it threatened to split the association at the meeting last year.

FOUR STATES REQUEST LOWER GRAIN FREIGHTS

Washington—Four western states,
Kansas, Arizona, North Dakota and Nebraska, applied to the interstate commerce commission Friday for a reduction on interstate and interstate grain of approximately 16 per cent.

health conditions which need attention in Outagamie-co. may tell it to the Outagamie-co. health committee which will hold a regular meeting in the office of the county superintendent
in the courthouse at 10 o'clock
Saturday morning.

Mrs. James A. Wood is the chairman of this committee. Committee members are Mrs. Bertha Schulz,

SHANNON'S TALK IS ATTRACTING MUCH ATTENTION

Big Crowd is Expected at First Meeting of People's Forum Sunday Evening

Much interest has been aroused in the address on "Disarmament" to be given by Dr. Frederick F. Shannon, Chicago, at the first number of the People's Forum in Lawrence Memorial chapel Sunday evening. His subject is especially timely with the disarmament conference opening next week.

The program is to start at 7:30 with a musical program under direction of Carl W. Waterman and the speaker will begin at 8 o'clock. Dr. Shannon's wide acquaintance with men of affairs has placed him in a position to discuss his subject with intelligence and force. He is in intimate touch with world affairs at all times and his friends include many men high in the councils of this and other governments.

Because of the appropriateness of the subject at this time and the real worth of the speaker it is believed a capacity audience will greet the Chicago man. All arrangements have been completed for the first meeting of the series.

THANKSGIVING DINNER IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Two plump Plymouth Rock roosters which were intended to adorn the table of the Alex. Fahlstrom family Thanksgiving Day were consumed in a fire which destroyed their henhouse late Thursday night.

Fahlstrom, who is lockmaster of the first lock and lives near the canal, discovered the henhouse was ablaze about 11 o'clock. He telephoned the fire department and the call was answered with the chemical apparatus and the hose cart.

The building was so small, however, that it was in ashes before firemen had a chance to combat the flames. The henhouse contained four fowls.

It is believed that a burning cigar or cigar stub tossed aside by a passerby ignited dry leaves and the blaze spread to the building.

MERCHANTS EAGER FOR HOMECOMING

City Will be All Dressed Up For Big Football Game a Week from Tomorrow

Appleton merchants are enthusiastically making plans and cooperating for the purpose of "dressing the city in its best" in observance of Armistice Day and homecoming, Nov. 11 and 12. It is not likely that business places will close for Saturday afternoon homecoming day, when Lawrence College plays Ripon here. This had been suggested but it is felt that visitors would be better pleased and better impressed with the city if business continues as usual.

Reports from Iowa City, Ia., show that an attempt to have business places close on the afternoon of homecoming day for a big interuniversity football game was a failure and unsatisfactory to the public and the business men. Stores in Madison remained open last Saturday afternoon during the Wisconsin-Minnesota game at the annual homecoming.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys And Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble. adv.

JUMPS TO AVOID FALL AND IS BADLY INJURED

Herman Eggert, 1020 Drew-st., an interurban conductor of the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co., is confined to his home with a badly swollen leg which he received while putting up storm windows. The accident was due to the ladder slipping and when Mr. Eggert discovered he was about to be precipitated from the second story to the ground he jumped to save himself and landed on his feet. The injured leg is swollen to twice its normal size making it impossible for the attending physician to determine as yet whether it is fractured.

INSTAL NEW OFFICERS OF KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Newly elected officers of the Knights of Columbus were installed with impressive ceremonies conducted by Frank Daniels, Menasha, state deputy, in K. of C. hall Thursday evening. Following the installation addresses were given by the Rev. W. J. Fitzmaurice, Dr. C. D. Ryan, Mr. Daniels and P. H. Bellow. Mr. Bellow described the reception given to Marshal Poch at the Kansas City convention of the American legion. Mr. Bellow returned Thursday from the convention city. Thomas Flanagan, grand knight, was elected to represent the council at a reception and banquet for Marshal Poch to be given by Chicago Knights of Columbus in the Congress hotel, Chicago, Sunday evening. It is quite probable other members of the council also will attend.

THE AMERICAN LEGION GIVES THE ANSWER

What did America fight for when it took up arms against the central powers? President Wilson declared, when congress on his recommendation authorized war, that we fought to uphold our national rights and to "make the world safe for democracy." His declaration was never challenged, except by a few irresponsible politicians in congress who either represented disloyal constituencies or were opposed to the war. The country thought as the president did. The country responded to the president's appeal and there never was any question from the day we declared war until victory was won as to the spirit which actuated America. That spirit was in the air, it was proclaimed from the rostrum and by the press, it was sung by our armies in France. We were in the conflict to save the world from Prussianism and to make it free, so that there might never be another such assault upon christian civilization and the liberties of the people.

After the war politics commenced to creep into the making of peace. Politicians bent upon obstructing the policies of the government and with malign intent toward President Wilson commenced to question the accepted ground upon which we entered the war. It was asserted that we were not impelled by a purpose to make the world safe for democracy. This phrase of the president was derided in the personal abuse heaped upon him and in the unblushing conspiracy to traduce his name and discredit his services to the nation. We were told that America declared war and sent its armies to France not to help the allies win their fight for civilization and free institutions, but to save our own skin and protect our own interests. This was the plan hit upon to excuse our rejection of the League of Nations and our desertion of the allies in the making of peace.

We have only to look up the record in the last presidential campaign, we have only to go over the debates in the senate, to find these contentions and these explanations of America's motives in cold print. We have to recall only recently the speech of Ambassador Harvey in London when he stated point blank that the idea that America fought to save the world for democracy was tommyrot; that its course was controlled wholly by fear and selfishness. His speech created a furor all over the country, and demands were made that he be recalled and his speech repudiated by the administration. Mr. Harvey was not recalled, he was not rebuked and his statements were only mildly and indirectly disclaimed by President Harding.

It has remained for the American Legion to say what was the guiding motive of the four million men who went out from America to settle the issues of that great conflict. These men did the fighting. They at least know what they fought for. A few of the stay-at-homes, obstructionists and designing demagogues, may think they know better, but that can hardly be. In its national convention this week at Kansas City the American Legion, representing the ex-service men of America, adopted a resolution censuring Ambassador Harvey's Guildhall speech, declaring it "does not represent the true American attitude as interpreted by the American Legion, and let it be known now and for all time that America fought not only for the maintenance of America's rights but for the freedom of the world."

This should be final. It should close the mouths of the back-biters, and those who seek a policy of isolation in their campaign against the League of Nations, the prevention of future wars and the making of the world safe for free institutions. Furthermore, the declaration ought to be emblazoned in the halls of congress, so that it will not forget.

WHAT IS A BUSINESS CYCLE?

All business moves in cycles. That is as plain to the small merchant as to the larger manufacturer. On certain days of the week there is always a greater demand than on other days—and so with certain months, and still further, certain years have been fat and others lean.

If we trace these observations back over a period of many years, we find that business moves with surprising regularity in successive stages from prosperity to depression through a period of stagnation to a revival leading back to prosperity. This complete journey is a business cycle. The minor cycles within this great trend are unimportant as far as their general effect is concerned, and so it is the major cycle that we will consider.

Fundamentally, the business cycle is bad. It exists because of ignorance and lack of confidence. It can be eliminated whenever the world and his neighbor will study the conditions that are affecting business everywhere and in all its phases. The steps toward that elimination must be taken by every business man in every community.

The business cycle manifests itself in fluctuating interest rates, in unemployment, in labor crises, in bumper crops, in high prices, in boom towns. Its elimination would mean a stabilization of money rates, benefiting debtor and creditor alike, one of whom always suffers under present conditions. It would mean an equitable arrangement of labor problems and an assurance of a steady market for farm products.

Today is the day to realize the existence of the cycle. We have been in the valley and are starting on the long slow path up the slope to prosperity. With increased knowledge, with a will to work, we may bridge these valleys and our route will be level and pleasant. There will be work enough for all of us, and enough problems in maintaining the bridges to keep us out of mischief.

A well-known writer says: "The business cycle thrives on uncertainty. The better it is understood and the more widely diffused is knowledge concerning it, the less harmful it will be. If bankers and business men should do their part towards collecting data and should keep themselves reasonably well posted as to the approximate position of their respective businesses in the current cycle, all this would result in a material flattening out of the cycle curve."

In other words we have the business cycle because we have tolerated it and are unscientific in our business policies.

A MASTER AT STATECRAFT

The diplomacy which the British Premier, Mr. David Lloyd George, is displaying in the present governmental crisis fills onlookers with admiration, as well as surprise. He is demonstrating how one man, in an extremely embarrassing predicament, can, by choosing the time and means, turn adverse circumstances to advantage.

His opponents have been trying for a long time to break down the coalition government and unseat him. They heckled him with the Irish question. However, he found means to open a conference, with the result that nobody dared, from fear of causing serious trouble to the people, to intercept him in his work. When it looked like the conference might fail, his antagonists thought they had their chance, but he evolved a phrase which enabled discussions to go on. Now, as the time nears for his departure for the United States, the Tory element haggles him for dealing with Sinn Fein. Cleverly, he accepts the challenge and puts the case before parliament.

Mr. George had the keen discernment to recognize his opportunity. He knew that parliament would have to support him, because, if it did not, it and not he would be responsible for stopping the negotiations.

Whether we like Mr. George or not, we must admit that he is not excelled in statecraft. His mastery of a situation which boded the downfall of his administration is a most impressive example for the weak-hearted, who are strong and optimistic in success, but waver and give up in a crisis. Mr. George shows how to turn disadvantage to advantage.

EXHAUST GAS POISONING

Gasoline vapor itself is comparatively non-poisonous. Only when it is inhaled in great concentration does it produce bad effects such as nausea and perhaps convulsions. But the exhaust gas of an automobile or other gasoline engine is highly poisonous and has brought sudden death to many victims. The lethal effect is due to the carbon monoxide gas in the exhaust vapors. With a carburetor adjusted to give a rich mixture a larger quantity of this deadly poison is produced. Investigations made by Feldner for the bureau of mines would indicate that an automobile engine adjusted for a mixture produces as much as two cubic feet of carbon monoxide per minute. Therefore grave peril awaits the thoughtless driver who starts the engine on a cold morning and allows it to run for a time to warm up in a small, closed garage. Life is endangered in less than five minutes, unless a tube connected with the exhaust carries the poisonous vapors outside, or the doors of the garage are kept open. "Heart failure"—that dear old standby of the nonchalant coroner—is sometimes blamed for sudden death from carbon monoxide asphyxiation. Prof. Yandell Henderson and his associates studying the problem of carbon monoxide asphyxiation for the United States bureau of mines, adopted a standard for stimulating the effect of inhaling air polluted with carbon monoxide. It is generally agreed that had effects may be produced by so little as two parts of CO in 10,000 of atmosphere. But the time during which this polluted air is inhaled is an important factor. So Henderson et al. multiply the time of exposure in hours by the concentration of carbon monoxide in parts per 10,000 of air. If the product is three or less there is no appreciable effect. If it is six there is slight discomfort or distress. If it is nine the victim has a headache and maybe some nausea. If it is 15 the conditions are dangerous. If more than 15 a fatality may result.

The whole poisonous effect of carbon monoxide is due to the combination of the gas with the hemoglobin of the blood, thus displacing or excluding oxygen. The carbon monoxide does not poison the system in the same sense that ordinary narcotics or mineral poisons do. Red blood cells which have taken up carbon monoxide and given it off again, are just as good cells as they were before. But it has been found that inhalations of oxygen have little value in the treatment of persons asphyxiated by carbon monoxide. It seems the carbon monoxide has about 200 times as strong an affinity for hemoglobin as oxygen has. So something else must be done to break this affinity, and curiously enough, the most effective remedy is carbon dioxide gas—inhalations of oxygen containing about eight per cent of carbon dioxide. An emergency apparatus for administering this treatment will be available soon, and the work of the physiologists and chemists of the United States bureau of mines will no doubt mean the saving of many lives with this new treatment. Firemen overcome by smoke and victims gassed by dust explosions will be saved by the carbon dioxide and oxygen treatment.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Milk and Grapefruit

Is it injurious to take milk at the same meal with grapefruit or other acid fruits? (M. E. L.)
Answer—No. The milk fruit acid in grapefruit and other citrus fruits (citric acid) is not much of an acid compared with the gastric juice which mixes with milk in the stomach.

Genevieve is Quite Right

I am a girl 15 years old and my mother is still trying to "fool" me about Mr. Stork. Whenever I ask her about this subject she tells me I should not bother my head about it. When somebody else speaks about it she changes the subject and winks. This makes me feel very queer. I think mother ought to tell me now, as I am in doubt about things and want to know what is right. (Genevieve G.)
Answer—Yes, mother ought to tell you. Genevieve, or if she does not feel capable, then she ought to send you to a good woman doctor for a little, friendly talk, or if that is impossible, then she might at least get you the right kind of book or something to read for yourself. You have a perfect right to be taught the truth by your mother.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Friday, Nov. 6, 1896
Sheriff-elect Robert McMurdo of Hortonville was in Appleton on business.
Ben Wendelhorn left for Chicago to visit his brother Henry who was attending school there.
Miss Helen Rogers returned to Gratton hall. Fond du Lac, after a visit with her mother, Mrs. S. L. Rogers.
Ira Lee and James Daffar of Lawrence university were to give the Menasha high school team points on football for their game with Neenah the day following.

The John Heberg Co. of Green Bay, manufacturers of toilet paper, made an assignment. Peter Reuter of Kaukauna was named as assignee. The liabilities were stated to be $30,000 with assets to nearly the same amount. The cause of failure was said to be poor business.

The street commissioner announced that sidewalks must be free from snow by 10 o'clock on the morning succeeding a storm, otherwise the snow will be removed by the street department and the cost charged up to the property.

The various Republican clubs of the city were making arrangements for a big celebration and ratification for the following Wednesday evening.

President Plantz, Prof. Jones and the Rev. J. S. Davis were appointed by the board of trustees of Lawrence university to take charge of the semi-centennial celebration of the founding of Lawrence university the succeeding Jan. 20. The plan outlined by them was to have a dual celebration for both university and city whose foundations were coincident.

European Debts Again

Another United States Senator has returned from Europe. He is Jos. T. Robinson. He affirms that certain European governments are trying to find ways and means by which they will not have to pay the debts which they owe the United States. There exists a sentiment in these countries that America must cancel these debts. France is one of the countries which wants this cancellation. France owes American several millions of dollars. Should this be granted to France, her militarism would know no bounds. She would be able to keep up her army.

There is one important reason why America cannot cancel these debts. As long as these nations are indebted to America they must obey her. Should she cancel the debts, matters would stand very differently. But America's best diplomats are working for the repeal of such a cancellation.—DRAUGAS (Lithuanian, Rep.) CHICAGO.

Rice Dope

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington, D. C. — The greatest food in the world, according to the Department of Agriculture, is being neglected by the American people.

You will probably be surprised to learn that this food is rice. It deserves the title of greatness in that it is the staple food of about one-half of the human race, and that more people depend almost exclusively on rice for their food than depend on any other one thing.

Its wide use is justified by the fact that it contains about as much nourishment as any of the other cereals, and is one of the most easily digestible of all foods. In the southern part of this country, rice is appreciated at its true value, appears on almost every dinner table, and is prepared in a dozen of appetizing ways. But in the rest of the country it is used only sparingly, and too often it is prepared in ways that are not calculated to make it attractive.

Rice, therefore, deserves to be boosted, and especially unpolished or brown rice, which has made its appearance in a few grocery stores only recently, but would be obtainable everywhere if there were a demand for it.

Rice shares the fate common to all grains in civilized countries of being multiplied in such a way that some of the most important food elements are cut away from it and fed to cattle. The things in which our diet is apt to be deficient are minerals, roughage, and the recently discovered elements known as vitamins. These are the very things which the milling process takes away, not only from rice, but from wheat, corn and barley. Experts contend that many of our characteristic civilized diseases are due to the shortage of these elements. The outer coatings and the germs of grain contain these necessary elements. They are removed by the mill, primarily to make the grain keep longer, and so make them harder to handle in trade. Furthermore, the people have become accustomed to these highly milled cereals, so that there is little demand for the whole-grain products. Much has been written about how the manufacturers and retailers are starving us by selling us these highly milled foods. As a matter of fact, they are merely giving us what we demand. If the people could be made to understand the value of whole grains, and to like them, so that a demand be created, they would be supplied by the trade. This is already taking place to some extent in the case of rice, which is an instructive example in many ways.

What Rice Is

The whole rice grain contains protein, fat, starch, sugar, mineral matter, fiber and one of the most important of the vitamins. By removing the bran coat and the germ in milling, part of the protein, fat and mineral matter, and practically all of the vitamins are lost. What remains is mostly starch. Experiments in the tropics have shown that persons almost wholly on polished rice food, except the bread and a little rice cake, become ill. The publication of this fact has caused some people to fear polished rice as a food. As a matter of fact, polished rice is an excellent food to furnish the starchy element in a mixed diet. It is no more dangerous to eat than wheat flour, as long as other foods are eaten with it. The point is simply that brown rice, from which only the husk has been removed, leaving the germ with its vitamins content, the mineral substances and the fat, is a vastly more valuable food than polished rice. It would tend to supplement many of the characteristic deficiencies of our diet. It would be a great thing, therefore, if the use of brown rice could be made popular.

The trade seems to be ready to supply any demand there may be. There are three grocery stores at least in Washington where brown rice may be bought from fall until spring. It is not kept in the summer, because, as one grocer put it, it becomes "wee-wee-wee." It can be bought in this city, however, at least eight months in the year. Doubtless it can be bought at large grocery stores in other cities. In smaller places it is not obtainable simply because there is little or no demand for it.

Wild Rice Now Sold
It is a surprise to find that the retail stores here also have for sale the wild rice of North America. This is a grain, somewhat distantly related to the true rice, which grows in many of our swamps and marshes. It is the favorite food of wild fowl. It was a staple of the American Indians, who used to paddle through the marshes in their canoes and shatter the grain into the boat with their paddles. The use of the pinnace used to be too. It is a tasty and nutritious grain. Many persons living in this country could gather an abundant supply of this valuable grain without cost if they knew it when they saw it. It is said that the cultivation of the wild rice is almost impossible because of the ease with which it shatters.

The growing of rice has had an interesting history in this country. Although rice has been grown in the tropics since before written history began, it did not reach this country until about 1700. A bag of rice was then brought to Charleston, S. C. on a ship, and the cultivation of it began in a small way. It soon became the staple crop of that region, and grew on the tidal marshes by the creek and in the back of the plantation. Rice growing was very profitable, but only because of the presence of slave labor. The industry had the honor of supporting the most aristocratic society which America has ever known—that of South Carolina before the war. The owners of the great rice plantations of that state were the cream of the old southern society, and most of the legend and story about old plantation days is based upon them.

This regime collapsed completely when the Civil War took its slaves away from it. The rice fields were reverted to jungle and for a time rice culture was at a very low ebb. It was not until the late 1800s that it began to grow up by different methods, permitting of the use of machinery. This western rice farming is an industry of recent growth. California marketed its first rice crop in 1912. The leading rice producing states now in the order of their importance are Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and California. Some rice is raised in Mississippi, Florida, Alabama and Missouri.

The rice produced in these states is more than enough to supply all the needs of this country, and more rice could be raised. The general use of rice, especially in its unpolished form, would give the nation one more great crop of the highest value.

A Resume of American Newspaper Opinion

Medicinal Beer

If, as the PHILADELPHIA PUBLIC LEDGER (Ind.) suggests, we are threatened with "a malt and hops prohibition" by the "prohibition enforcement officers" who may throw up their hands and go down for the third time, the responsibility must lie, as many editorial writers see it, not with the Treasury order regulating the sale of beer and wine for medicinal purposes, but with a dallying Congress which has been playing with the measure designed to prohibit the very thing that Secretary Mellon is doing. Editors who are as dry as the driest are out of sympathy with the attack on the Secretary for a decision which is held to be plainly within his province under the law.

THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR (Boston, Ind.) for instance, thinks: "It will be difficult for any body justly to find much fault with the Secretary of the Treasury authorizing" the issue of regulations permitting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating beer for medicinal purposes, since the official interpretation given the prohibition law before he took office "has not been corrected by legislation." The prohibitionists, the BALTIMORE SUN (Ind.) observe, "should be the last persons to criticize or denounce him," since what Secretary Mellon is doing is to enforce existing legislation, and "the prohibitionists are always insisting that it is immoral not to observe the Volstead law." And it is wholly a matter of law, the PITTSBURGH LEADER (Prog. Rep.) asserts. The opinion of Attorney General Palmer, upon which the Treasury ruling was based, "was built up on the actual terms of the prohibition law," and "Secretary Mellon delayed for many months to allow Congress time to make change in the act which might permanently stay the ruling." But the anti-beer bill remains "hung up," the CHICAGO JOURNAL (Dem.) notes, because "both houses of Congress, torn by rival lobbies and having no discoverable mind or principle of their own, are unable to decide whether they will win or lose votes by passing the measure." Certainly if criticism is deserved anywhere, the TRENTON TIMES (Ind.) feels that "it is Congress which should be blamed for its failure to pass the anti-beer bill."

The "only adverse criticism that can be passed on the ruling," as the PROVIDENCE TRIBUNE (Ind. Rep.) sees it, "is that it has been too long delayed" by "internal revenue officials who seem to have been rather unduly considerate of the sensibilities of the Volsteadians," who, the NEW YORK TIMES (Ind., Dem.) says, "have calmly added, in effect, the words 'for medical purposes' to the prohibition against liquors for 'beverage purposes' contained in the eighteenth amendment."

Nevertheless, the LYNCHBURG (Va.) NEWS (Dem.) contends, "the temper and purpose of Congress has been clearly developed in the matter of traffic in beer, even when confined to medical uses, and in a way that is not favorable to the policy just inaugurated by Secretary Mellon," and there is "no standpoint from which the order can be justified." And wherever responsibilities lie, the sentiment of a substantial minority of the press is expressed by the ROCHESTER TIMES UNION (Ind.) when it says that "the step taken by Secretary Mellon is a step backward," which "will lessen the restriction on booze and make it still more difficult to enforce prohibition and to abolish the evils of the liquor traffic."

By this "deplorable" ruling the "medical quacks, the fake druggists and the bootleggers have won a victory" in the opinion of the SIOUX CITY TRIBUNE (Ind.), since there can be "no question of the injurious effect of the new regulation on the efforts properly to enforce the prohibition amendment." The task is difficult of adequate performance as is, the KANSAS CITY JOURNAL (Rep.) observes, and "if fictitious maladies are to transform a large proportion of the population into consumers of beer and whisky through the medium of physicians' prescriptions, sinister progress will have been made toward the indirect nullification of the amendment."

"Medicinal beer may contain a couple of per cent of medical benefit for suffering humanity," the CHICAGO POST (Ind.) concedes, but decidedly "its other 98-odd per cent of exorbitant expense is neither more nor less than anti-prohibition camouflage." The AKRON BEACON JOURNAL (Rep.) however, doesn't grant even one half of one per cent benefit. It interprets the "whole scheme" as designed "not to aid a diseased or suffering world," but "to create a market for beer that which clearly the people who voted for the prohibition amendment intended to prohibit." The DES MOINES REGISTER (Ind.) Rep., also discounting the advantage to be gained from the medical aspect, believes that "what the new order really comes to is to restore 'the beverage use of wine and beer.'"

"Perhaps this attitude," strenuously by such comments as that of the ST. JOSEPH (Mo.) NEWS PRESS (Ind.), which finds "a reflection of public opinion," Mr. Mellon's course, "since 'the public mind has gradually become fixed upon the conviction that drastic prohibition as decreed by the extremists is not only obnoxious and intolerable, but impracticable.'"

Canceled the Allied Debt
Brussels—The cure for unemployment in America is entirely fatal, the paper declares that it is the existence of these debts that has upset the exchange market and made it impossible for Europe to purchase in America.

"At the present time," says the paper, "there are about six million unemployed, not counting those who work one day a week. We need not say more to prove that the situation there is very critical especially if we remember that this crisis of unemployment exists for nearly a year and that it is always increasing."

"A state of mind engendered from discontent and uncertainty among employers and employees. Certainly in many cases psychological factors, together with economic motives play a great part in the disputes."

"But certainly a general strike would not help to re-establish the economic life of the United States. It would only increase the present misery and stop altogether the little activity which is still going on. It would perhaps even produce the social crisis which many have been awaiting ever since the armistice."

Clubs and Parties

Second "Birthday" Party

Just two candles for so big and thriving a baby seems strange, but Appleton Women's club is celebrating its second birthday with a big party at Lawrence conservatory at 729 Tuesday evening. A committee composed of Mrs. Joseph Koffend, Jr., Mrs. Richard Meyer, Mrs. H. C. Getchew and Mrs. Fred Heinemann is in charge of the program. A very short business meeting will precede the party.

The program follows:
1. The Spirit of a Birthday Cake.
2. "Nancy Comes Home," a one act pantomime.

3. Grand Opera featuring Three Stars in that famous "Upstairs Porch" scene from Romeo and Juliet (Polson included).
4. Mystery Act, (showed in secrecy).

The committee wishes to announce that opportunity will be given the members of the club to meet the stars after the performances in the dean's studio. Mrs. Herman P. Heckert, chairman of the refreshment committee, will be hostess at this part of the entertainment. All members, especially those who joined the club when it was a "howling baby," are urged to come to the party.

Masquerade is Success

One of the most interesting parties which has ever taken place at the Appleton clubroom occurred Thursday evening when the members of the Woodcraft band held their masquerade. To avoid being discovered beneath their masks and clever costumes, the girls kept perfectly mute while little boys watched maids from Japan, and funny clowns plagued crotchety sailor boys. The motley but mirthful crew had several stunts including a grand march and a Virginia reel before the great moment of unmasking arrived. Miss Martha Dorn was awarded the prize for the clever costume, while Miss Margaret Jensen won the prize for being able to discover the greatest number of girls beneath their disguise. Such varied amusements as a newspaper contest, a football game and "much, much, much" followed.

Football Game With Appleton High

Kaukauna.—The climax of enthusiasm over the football game between the high school and Appleton high was reached Friday afternoon when the usual "pep" meeting was conducted but this time it was real pep instead of merely a demonstration. Talks were given by several of the players and all expressed their determination to win the game.

The fact that Appleton has a good team makes victory all the more desirable. It had been planned to carry the meeting so far as to form a parade and create a little interest among the townspeople. (As far as can be determined, probably 100 Kaukaunaites will be at Lawrence field at 2:15 Saturday afternoon.)

FORMER CONVICT NABBED WHEN HE HIKES WITH GRIP

Police Learn That Man Under Arrest Was Imprisoned for Burglary

John Davenport alias John Allen, a transient registered at Hotel Appleton, got a $35 traveling bag out of Carroll's shop Thursday afternoon on the pretense that it was wanted by his wife and that after she inspected it at the hotel he would either bring it "right back" or pay for it if she decided to keep it.

At 2:45 he was arrested at the Northwestern passenger station by police officers after he had purchased a ticket for Green Bay and was prepared to make his get away with the traveling bag.

Davenport had been staying at the hotel the last three days where he was registered as John Allen. At the police station he gave his age as 24 but it is believed that he is nearer 30. He said that he was from Peoria, Ill., and that he had never been under arrest before.

A telegram from Chief of Police George T. Prim to the Peoria police department brought the reply that Davenport was convicted of burglary four years ago and sentenced to Joliet penitentiary.

Since his arrival here, Davenport

had been collecting money from business men on the plea that he was tubercular and wanted to go to the pineries of northern Michigan for an outdoor cure. Several prominent merchants responded to his plea by giving him various sums.

It is believed the former convict may be wanted in other cities in this section on charges of theft or similar offenses. He is about five feet three inches tall and wears a dark green suit and black hat. The front teeth in his upper jaw are missing. When arrested he had in his possession a fine moleskin sheepskin-lined coat with leather-lined sleeves. Police believe that this may be stolen.

HARTHILL TELLS OF LONG FIGHT AGAINST CRIME

Minneapolis Police Chief Describes Police Methods in Address Here

Trouth Harthill, former chief of police of Minneapolis, who has made a thorough study of social and industrial conditions in most of the cities of United States and Canada, in an illustrated lecture on "Crime and Crime's Cause and Effect," at Lawrence Memorial hall Thursday night, showed his audience the inside workings of a police department in a large city. It was an instructive and entertaining exposure of police mysteries, and it was the first time, the speaker said, his subject had ever been discussed by a chief of police. He discussed it from a chief of police standpoint.

Mr. Harthill said he gave Minneapolis a labor administration while in office during the world war. He described the growth of organizations since the birth of Christ, and the growth of the police department. He said that in the 2,000 years of the teachings of Christ there was a world war in which the lives of 15,000,000 men were lost and a debt of $150,000,000,000 was created a burden to be carried by three generations. There is today an element that is trying to establish and trying to force conditions on workers that are worse than they were 20 years ago, Mr. Harthill said. The speaker charged that while American soldiers were in France fighting for their country certain manufacturers and capitalist who publically praised the boys for their loyalty started a movement at home for the open shop in an attempt to break up organized labor. Many of the dollar a year men who served the government at Washington proved to be million dollar men when by loading upon the government their manufactured products which were never used.

The first thing Mr. Harthill did upon assuming the duties of his office was to reorganize the police department, pictures of which were thrown on the screen. The old method of criminal identification was contrasted with the Bertillon system now in use. Opium smokers and dope fiends were dealt upon at considerable length and pictures were shown of the outfits used, the effect the habit has upon a person, crimes perpetrated by the use of it, and the clean-up that was made by the police department. In the raids made by the officers under him, the chief of police frequently discovered that the premises used for immoral purposes were owned by prominent citizens who collected rent several times in excess of that of adjoining property.

Mr. Harthill, while in office, paid particular attention to the protection of children and said that parents can make no greater mistake than to instill fear of policemen in the hearts of their little ones to whom they should look for protection. In the handling of strikes Mr. Harthill said he always made it a point to protect both the employee and employer and condemned the employment of strike breakers. Police departments, militia and courts are usually lined up against labor, he said.

TO RELIEVE CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmitin (double strength), and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial. adv.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Discoverer Tells Schlitz Bros. Co., Voigt's Drug Store, Union Pharmacy—and All Good Druggists Not to Take a Cent of Anyone's Money Unless Allen's Completely Banishes All Rheumatic Pains and Twinges.

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work. He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body. With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system. He freely gave his discovery to others, who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Schlitz Bros. Co., Voigt's Drug Store and Union Pharmacy have been appointed agents for Allen's in this vicinity with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit. adv.

HOME CITY GETS MOST OF TAXES

Kinsman Says Governor Would Have Hard Time Reducing Taxation

"The governor of Wisconsin cannot reduce the taxes although he may be perfectly sincere when he tells you before election that he will," said Dr. D. O. Kinsman in addressing the members of the Civics department of the Appleton Women's club at the vocational school at 4 o'clock Wednesday on "Taxes."

"A little over 7 per cent of the $70,000,000 general property tax goes to the state," continued the speaker. "If the governor should reduce the cost of running the state government to next to nothing, it would reduce the taxes paid by the citizen on his property very little. About $15,000,000 of the taxes goes to the county, $27,000,000 for local government and something over $28,000,000 for public schools."

In his short address, Dr. Kinsman could little more than outline the kinds of taxes as they have developed through the centuries. He took up property tax on personal effects and real estate, income tax and the single tax. He showed that as soon as one tax went into effect and seemed to be fair, new conditions arose making that system unfair to some and to the great advantage of others. He said that so far no just system of taxation had been worked out. He only touched on the subject of taxes on mortgages, stocks and bonds.

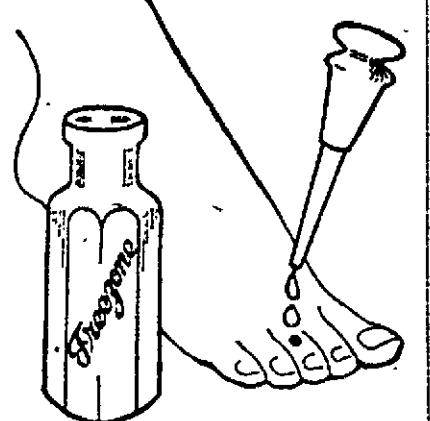

"Each man and woman should support the state," said the speaker, "according to his ability to pay. The great problem which has never been solved is how we are going to measure his ability to pay. Imperfect though the present system may be, we could not have the services which are performed by the state for our protection duplicated through personal enterprise for anywhere near the same cost as our taxes represent."

MAKE IMPROVEMENTS AT TRADE SCHOOL BUILDING

Cement sidewalks are being laid on the east side of the vocational school building which will enable pupils to use both entrances of the building. The chimney also is being raised ten feet to remedy heating difficulties. Work has been started to improve the ventilation in the wood working room by inserting ventilators underneath the floors.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Batzler of Appleton are visiting a few days at the homes of John and Dan Devine of Mackville.

October Sets New Mark For Circulation Of Books

Demand for Books Shows Unprecedented Increase—More Room Needed

An increase in circulation never known before in the history of the Free Public Library occurred during the month of October, according to the report submitted to the library board at its monthly meeting by Miss Florence C. Day, librarian. The total of 7,962 books drawn by patrons was 2,103 above the total of 5,859 in October, 1920, and 2,216 over the total circulation of 5,746 in September, 1921.

The board was both pleased and surprised at the increasing use and appreciation of the library by the public. Miss Day said an increase of 400 or 500 books a month would be considered a normal condition, but a jump of 2,000 was a record.

Need More Room
With the circulation possibly reaching the 100,000 books for the year 1921, the problem of space and facilities begins to press. Shelves and equipment for the children's library have been ordered and are expected to arrive soon. The room then will be equipped and the juvenile department started on a small scale, probably early in December. This will take some of the space used by adults. Increasing use of the library is not unexpected. It merely brings Appleton nearer the record of other cities, where larger and better equipped libraries are maintained and where their use is much more extensive. It has been felt by some people that an entire building should be provided for library purposes such as Oshkosh and other neighboring cities have. More books than ever before have been added and the withdrawal rules altered, indicating that when more funds are available for library purposes, the whole public benefit immediately and responds to the added privileges. It is believed also that Appleton's library should keep pace with Appleton's rank as one of the leading cities of the state. It is practically the only municipal institution that serves the public day and evening and on Sundays all through the year. One-hundred seventy-eight books were added to the library shelves during the month, Miss Day's report shows, and one-hundred fifteen were withdrawn from circulation. This brings the total number of books up to 15,6618, with 13,126 for adults and 2,152 for children. New borrowers to the number of 577 were added in October, 339 adults and 178 children, making the net total users 2,084 adults and 769 children, or 2,873. Children read almost as much non-fiction during October as did the adults. The total circulation of non-fiction was 1,105 books among adults and 1,008 among children, or 2,113 in all. Fiction had the heaviest circulation as usual. There were 5,416 books drawn, 5,610 by adults and 1,896 by children. Ninety-nine foreign books were read. The total circulation for the month was 5,127 books by adults, 2,855 by children; grand total, 7,982. Unbound periodicals numbering 338 were withdrawn.

MUSIC MEMORY CONTEST OPENS EARLY IN 1922

Music Department of Womans Club Preparing to Stimulate Music Appreciation

The music memory contest for children in the upper grades of all the schools in the city will be conducted for two months beginning the first week in January under the auspices of the music department of the Appleton Women's club, according to plans made at the meeting of the department. The contest will include an analysis and a biographical sketch of the best in music to be printed in the Post-Crescent for 50 consecutive days. (The music described will be available in phonographic records.) At the end of the time set for the contest, each school—public, private and parochial—will conduct a separate contest to determine a team to represent that school. These teams will come together to compete for the substantial prizes which are to be awarded. The contest will be based on the children's memory of the analyses, the lives of the composers and their recognition of the music itself upon hearing it played. Committees to take charge of the contest include: Mrs. H. K. Pratt, Mrs. H. D. McChesney, supervising committee; Mrs. W. L. Crow, Mrs. J. L. Jones and Miss Irene Bidwell, arrangements; Mrs. J. T. Quinlan and Mrs. Carl Waterman, selection; Mrs. W. Ray Chalmers and Miss Marie Kelly, press and publicity. Other members of the Music department who are not on the committees will be divided into groups to assist with the plans of the contest. Last year the music department commenced its work in music memory contests with a comparatively small beginning. The efforts of the members were well rewarded by the interest among the students themselves which was so great as to make the larger contest advisable. All committees and members of the

CANCER CAUSE OF MANY DEATHS OF PERSONS OVER 40

Dr. Benton Delivers Interesting Talk on Plague to Loyal Order of Moose

In a talk on cancer before Appleton lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose, Dr. Joseph J. Benton brought home a realization of the prevalence of the disease when he said that 30,000 people died of cancer in the United States last year and that 2,234 people died of the disease in Wisconsin.

The doctor's talk was part of the program of the local lodge in observing "cancer week" so designated by the United States public health service.

Nearly half of all deaths caused by cancer, the doctor declared, are from cancer of the stomach or liver. One of every ten men who are over 40 is afflicted with cancer. The disease is slightly more prevalent among women than among men.

Cancer, according to Dr. Benton's definition, is a lawless growth of the body cells. It is not caused by infection of contagion. It is not inherited and it is not a blood disease.

Long continued irritation is the chief symptom in the development of the disease. Ulcers, moles, warts, lesions, sores, foreign bodies, unusual growths of any kind may all indicate the presence of cancer and should be examined at once by competent physicians to safeguard the patient.

Early in the disease there is no pain and after pain manifests itself, the chance of recovery is small. Cancer always begins in a single spot and in that spot there is always a previous abnormal growth or condition. There is always an interval between the development of the cancer and its spread to some other spot. In some cases this interval is a few weeks but in other cases it may be prolonged to months and years.

During the last few years the public has heard much of the havoc made by other diseases but very little has been said about cancer so that it has continued to spread at the rate of an annual increase of 2 1/2 per cent.

Heals Running Sores and Conquers Piles

Also Stops All Itching of Eczema Almost Immediately

"I felt it my duty to write you a letter of thanks for your wonderful Peterson's Ointment. I had a running sore on my left leg for one year. I began to use Peterson's Ointment three weeks ago and now it is healed."

—A. C. Gibrath, 763 Reed Street, Erie, Pa.

I'd rather get a letter like that, says Peterson of Buffalo, than have John D. Rockefeller give me a thousand dollars. It does me a lot of good to be able to be of use to my fellow man.

For years I have been selling through druggists a large box of PETERSON'S OINTMENT for 35 cents. The healing power in this ointment is marvelous. Eczema goes in a few days. Old sores heal up like magic; piles that other remedies do not seem to even relieve are speedily conquered.

It stops chafing in five minutes and for scalds and burns it is simply wonderful. Mail orders filled by Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y., adv.

MILK LUNCHES FOR SCHOOLS THIS YEAR

Health Department Will Resume Popular Service to Children

Milk lunches in the public schools will be resumed next week or as soon as the weather becomes cooler, according to the report made by Mrs. Henry Russell, the newly appointed chairman of the health department of the Appleton Womans club.

KODAKS And KODAK SUPPLIES At Voigt's "You Know the Place"

Lunches were commenced in the second district on Monday at the Lincoln, Franklin and Columbus schools, and others will follow as soon as the weather makes it advisable.

Under the auspices of the health department of the Appleton Womans club which is made up largely of the former Child Welfare circle, milk lunches were instituted in the schools last year. The children pay a very small fee for their daily portion of milk, but in many cases this fee could not be met by the family, especially where there were several children in school. The health department has been able to take care of these children as a part of its activities.

Last year, milk became very popular in the schools and all the children enjoyed the lunch time. Many children who had refused to drink milk at home would not think of refusing it at the schools. The health department of the club was unable to renew its activities early in the season because the chairman had not been appointed. Mrs. Henry Russell has recently accepted that position and has plans well underway for a successful year.

WIG-WAG SIGNAL ON RAIL CROSSING

Travelers on Spencer-st. to Be Protected by New Signal Device

Spencer-st. crossing of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad will be protected with a wig-wag electric signal instead of the present automatic gong as soon as the new equipment reaches Appleton.

This action was taken by the railroad in response to a request filed by Theodore Berg, city attorney, with the Wisconsin railroad commission July 15, when automobilists complained of the danger to which they were subjected.

A letter received by Mr. Berg from the commission had with it a copy of a letter written by Robert H. Widdicombe, commerce attorney of the Northwestern road, assuring the commission that the desired protection would be given as soon as the material could be shipped and the signal erected.

The new signal will be suspended in the air over the road at a point some distance from the track. Warning of an approaching train as given as the red danger arm swings continually back and forth. It contains a red light which moves with the signal.

THOUSANDS OF THIN PEOPLE HAVE SPLENDID APPETITES YET FAIL TO PUT ON FLESH AND GAIN WEIGHT- WHY?

Strong, Straightforward Advice To Thin, Underdeveloped Men and Women

If you are thin, scrawny and underdeveloped, if your face is peaked and your cheeks and neck exhibit unsightly hollows, it's almost certain that your nervous system is at the bottom of the trouble. You can eat three, yes four, substantial, fat producing meals a day, but as long as your stomach has an insufficient supply of nerve force this food you eat will pass out of the body with little if any benefit.

In order to assimilate properly the nourishing food you eat and convert it into healthy tissue and fat the nerves that control the process of digestion and assimilation must be put in first-class shape and until that is done you might just as well quit trying to put on flesh. Your system is starving for something that will turn the food you eat into healthy stay-there flesh and it can only be done in one way—by correcting faulty nervous digestion.

Thin, nervous, run-down people, however, with impoverished blood and half-starved looks are hailing with delight a quick and certain maker of solid flesh called EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES that is unequalled for repairing faulty digestion and correcting nervous digestive troubles. In fact the makers of Evans' Triple Phosphates guarantee that one month's treatment will increase your weight by several pounds and within ten days make you feel like a new being, full of ambition, vigor and a desire to accomplish things. Leading druggists everywhere have agreed to supply Evans' Triple Phosphates and guarantee it to do just what is claimed for it or money refunded.

Caution: While Evans' Triple Phosphates accomplishes wonders in nervous digestive troubles and as a general nerve tonic, it should not be taken by anyone who objects to a few additional pounds of solid stay-there flesh.

THREE BIG GAMES HOLD ATTENTION OF GRIDIRON FANS

Chicago and Ohio in West, Princeton and Harvard in East, are Features

New York—Class stands out all over the football scenes that will be spread tomorrow in the biggest act of the season.

Three numbers are classy enough to be called as the star of the bill. Ohio State against Chicago, Notre Dame against the Army and Harvard against Princeton is as nice an array as has been presented in an autumn abounding with big attractions.

For real thrills the Ohio State-Chicago act; for aerials and war like setting the Notre Dame-West Point number is the banner; for spectacular and fancy trimmings, the Harvard-Princeton presentation ranks the card.

Those fortunate easterners who saw Chicago give Princeton a convincing and well illustrated lesson in football, look to the big battle of the west with a prediction—"It will be some team that knocks off Chicago."

Defeating Minnesota and Michigan, Ohio State looked like an outfit that would not be blasted out of the conference championship race without a struggle. It should be some struggle. Uncle Sam is represented by one of the best teams developed at West Point in years. However, the dopsters are making Notre Dame a slight favorite because Rockne always has a good team at the South Bend institution and the soldiers act pined against them.

Despite two defeats administered by Navy and Chicago, Princeton is regarded as the favorite against Harvard. The Tigers have a funny way of coming out strong after the worst reverses. They did it in 1919.

Pittsburgh has an intercollegiate game with Nebraska and according to the reports, the Panthers will meet a dangerous opponent in the Corn Huskers.

Facing Lafayette, Penn wears a sour looking face. After having been drubbed by Pittsburgh there is no reason for glee in going against a team that has beaten the Panthers.

Columbia feels much like Penn. The only doubt the New York university has about the game is the size of the score that Cornell will win by. Yale has a weak number with Maryland and Penn State is looking for a little breathing spell with Carnegie Tech. Dartmouth is idle and Syracuse journeys to Montreal for a game with McGill. Navy passes the afternoon away with Bucknell.

LAWRENCE SHOWS MORE POWER IN OFFENSIVE PLAY

Backfield Is Plunging Well and Is Learning How to Skirt the Ends

Every day makes prospects brighter for a Lawrence victory in the homecoming game with Ripon here Nov. 12. With the men working in fine shape and developing a splendid defense, the coaching staff's confidence is increasing. Not only has the team shown remarkable improvement in defensive play but is developing an offense which will not be easily stopped.

The backfield, which has not been setting the world afire so far this year, has shown a most marked improvement. There is more steam in their plunges and their runs around ends have shown an improvement.

There is more snap in the getaways and more speed in the run. The line also is holding much better giving the runners a chance to skirt the ends before the opposition breaks through.

McChesney is drilling his men in new plays which will be kept under cover until they are needed. Thus far Lawrence has uncovered precisely nothing, using just enough plays to get away. As a result, Ripon scouts have mighty little to work on. Ripon, on the other hand, has shown a number of dazzling informations in its efforts to pile up big scores, giving Lawrence a chance to work out a defense.

McChesney is depending on his ends to make things hard for the pass catcher. In Stark, Doering, Normin, ten and Holmes he has a squad of dependable wingmen who are fast and can tackle well. They are putting in a lot of work on defensive play and should have the forward pass game down pat when the whistle blows.

VINCENT'S STARS READY TO START AGAINST KAUKAUNA

Appleton Mentor Wants to Save His Pet Plays for Use Against Oshkosh

With practically every man in prime condition, Appleton high school is ready for the scrap with Kaukauna at Lawrence field Saturday afternoon. Vincent's protégés wound up their heavy work Thursday and the coach was quite well satisfied with the way his boys went through their paces.

Kaukauna is not regarded as an easy foe although the team is confident of victory. The Electric City squad has a disconcerting habit of making the strong teams hustle and it is assured that it will put on its best bib and tucker for the game with its ancient rival.

Vincent has been concentrating a lot of his attention to the game at Oshkosh next Friday afternoon. Armistice day, Oshkosh, an unknown at the start of the season, showed unexpected strength when it held East Green Bay to a scoreless tie and now is regarded as one of the strongest squads in this section of the state.

Vincent doesn't want to uncover any of his pet plays against Kaukauna Saturday if he can help it. Oshkosh is sure to have scouts here to get a line on the Orange and Black attack. East Green Bay also will give the local squad considerable of a battle the following week. The Baymen have been forced out of the championship race but the rivalry between the teams assures an interesting fight.

BASKETBALLERS SHOW MORE LIFE THIS YEAR

This should be a great basketball year for Appleton. There is more interest in the great winter sport now than there has been for several years. With good teams assured at the college and high school, a professional team in process of organization, a strong industrial league and a number of other teams being formed, plenty of sport is assured.

Most of the teams are getting an early start. The professional league season will open early in December while most of the other teams will not get started much before the end of the year. It should be the biggest basketball year in Appleton's history.

with a hard two hour drill. Bred- ster's return to the field will give West Point the strongest lineup and the cadets are confident of victory. Much time has been spent in devising a defense for the forward pass that Notre Dame is expected to uncover tomorrow afternoon.

Tigers Set In Game

Princeton, N. J.—After spending the night in New York, the Harvard football squad, forty strong, is expected here this afternoon to work out in the stadium. The squad will motor over from Trenton and return there to spend the night. The Tigers also will have their final workout this afternoon behind closed gates. For the first time since October 66 Princeton will have a full strength line up on the field tomorrow for their twenty-third game with the Crimson.

The Catholic Order of Foresters basketball team will get started next week when it plays the National guard team in Armory G. The Foresters have been working out for several days and are lining up a strong squad. Another practice is to be held Friday evening.

Little has been said about the National guard squad. It has several of last year's men to build around and quite a few new men have appeared for practice.

trouble in securing games, most of the teams they met last season having joined leagues in their respective towns. This will have no effect with the teams going ahead with their work, however, as games will be taken on with teams from a greater distance.

LITTLE GIRL IS CAUSE OF WRECK OF SHAWANO CAR

Five Lives Endangered Because Child Refused to Get Out of Road

Lives of five persons were endangered Tuesday night when a girl,
about nine years of age, refused to get out of the center of the road to permit an automobile owned and driven by William Stoppenbach, Shawano, to pass. Mr. Stoppenbach,

with his wife and three other women,
was driving from Shawano toward Appleton when they encountered the girl about 6 miles south of Bonduel.
The child ran ahead of the car, looking over her shoulder and laughing
at the occupants of the car. Mr.
Stoppenbach believed she would leave the road when the car was close but she did not move and he was obliged to clamp on his brakes so suddenly
that the car was thrown in the ditch
and turned over on its top.

Mrs. John Andrews was rendered unconscious but recovered soon after.
None of the other occupants was injured. The automobile was righted and returned to Bonduel under its own power. Mrs. H. Gruber and Mrs.
William Shumaker of Shawano were in the car with Mr. and Mrs. Stoppenbach and Mrs. Andrews.

PLAN RECEPTION FOR DR. J. R. MOTT

A program is being arranged by the Y. M. C. A. for Tuesday, Nov. 15, the day on which Dr. John R. Mott, of New York, general secretary of the international committee of the Y. M.
C. A., will be the guest of Judson G.
Roschub in Appleton. Dr. Mott will speak in the Lawrence Memorial chapel at 9:30 in the morning. A conference of representatives of the Y. M. C. A.
in the state will be held in the afternoon.

Invitations are being sent to local Y.
M. C. A. workers and to workers all over the state for a reception dinner
to be given the evening of Nov. 15.
Dr. Mott's visit in Appleton will be his only trip to Wisconsin this year.

6 OUT OF 1,454 PARCELS WERE POORLY WRAPPED

Reports from transportation company for Nov. 2 received by Appleton
Chamber of Commerce, Thursday, showed that of 1,454 packages shipped from Appleton on that day only 6
were imperfect.

Two of the imperfect packages carried old addresses which had not been erased, two were improperly tied with rope. The rope had been too short and a piece of twine had been used to "make both ends meet." The casing on both ends of one package had broken when it was received at the station for shipment.

Reports of this nature will be made to the chamber of commerce
throughout November which has been designated "perfect package" month.

EQUITY LOCALS MAY JOIN STOCK AGENCY

Outagamie-co. members of the American Society of Equity are considering the advisability of joining a live stock agency with headquarters in Milwaukee for the marketing of their livestock. The matter is being put up to them at the regular meetings of locals by experienced commission men and is meeting with favorable consideration. The proposition was taken up by the Greenville local last week and by the Hortonville local a few nights previous. It is the intention of the promoters to present
the proposition to all the locals of the state.

The plan is to install a mail elevator

SLOCUM KEEPS IT IN THE HOUSE

Wouldn't Think of Being Without Tanlac, Says Detroit Citizen—
Health Restored

"Each day after I started taking Tanlac I felt stronger and better and now I just feel great," said John J.
Slocum, 143 Pasadena-ave., Detroit, Mich.

"Some two years back I had a cold and it looked like I couldn't get rid of it at all. It left me in a terribly run-down condition, my stomach was out of order and I felt sick all over.
My liver was sluggish. I was very bilious, and as I could hardly eat anything, my strength seemed to be gradually leaving me. I got to where I couldn't sleep at night, and felt so bad it was hard for me to do my work properly." In fact, at times I lost as much as three days time from work just because I couldn't hold out on the job.

"However, as soon as I started on Tanlac I began to eat better and sleep better, and four bottles of the medicine have toned up my system so thoroughly I actually feel better than ever before. I eat just anything I want and sleep soundly every night.
Tanlac is the greatest medicine I ever saw or heard of, and I wouldn't think of being without a bottle in the house."

Tanlac is sold in Appleton by Voigt
Drug Co. and by the leading druggists everywhere.

TIRED ENGINEER GAINS WEIGHT

"I gained weight and never felt better in my life since I took Kozak,"
said Irving Elzagh, 587 11th-ave., Milwaukee, C. M. St. P. locomotive engineer. "My appetite improved immediately and my food, which formerly caused gas, pains and bloatedness, seems to digest right and gives me the proper nourishment. Headaches and that dull tired feeling are gone while my friends say I have a better color in my cheeks, nowadays. Kozak is sure a fine medicine." Kozak sold exclusively here by Schlitz Bros., Black

Dear Heck:
You have heard of "An open letter"
and a "closed book." Well that's what I'm writing now.

I know the other day we read
little poem which said:
"I've listened till I'm woozy
To each reform complaint,
Maybe it would be better
If I was what I am!"
Now these lines sound well in print
and look good in verse but they worried me a whole lot. Heck, I thought I'd ask you if it is better to be a fellow who knows what he's wasting when he's what he is, or worse when he's what he is, or other words how would he know what he is what he wasn't when he was what he is?

Dear D. Cor:
Our position necessitates that we answer you in an open letter but we trust it will hereafter remain a closed book.

Really, we like to be helpful and answer questions, but may we not remind you that the district attorney
and the wizard are still in town?
Dramatically yours,

Laughs
By Billy
I've heard the children laughing,
laughing while they play
And I've heard hyenas laugh on
circus day;
And I've heard the flapping flapper
laugh.
In gay lit dancing halls
But I've never heard the water laugh
When Minnehaha falls.

Dalotia, Which Means "My Friend"
The eyes of daylight blink
And slowly close;
The stealthy coyotes stink
Where sagebrush grows.
The long-eared rabbits trip
And sprightly dance;
Or softly jump and skip
Where moonbeams glance.

The jovial moon man
Smiles and spreads his cheer
O'er dim, fantastic miles
And grasses sere.

Oh prairies vast!
You hold my soul and all
I would return to thee
Again I hear thy call!

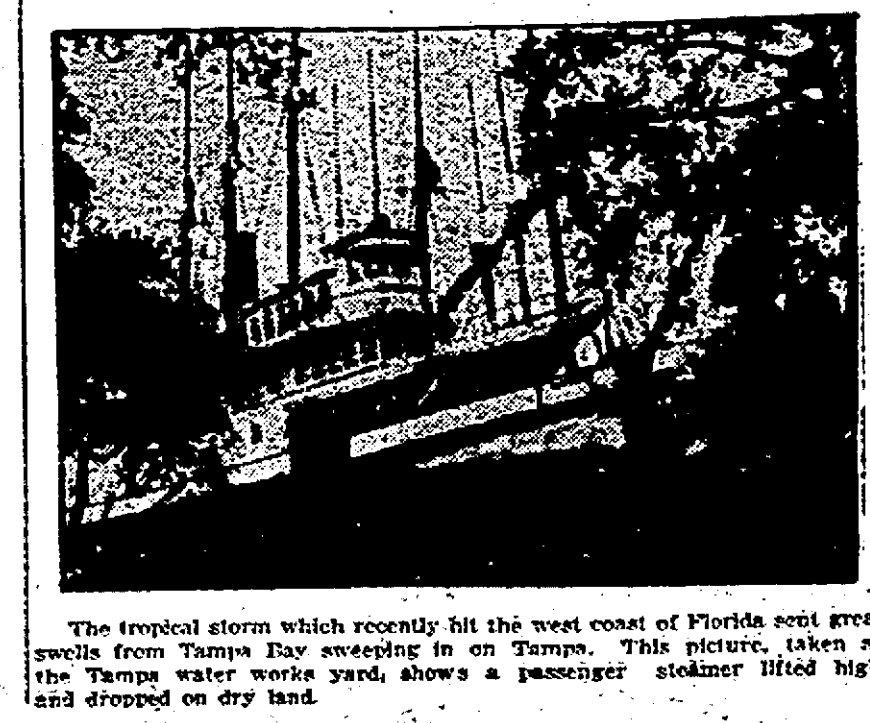

But I S'pose He Soaked the Boss
"I never made a glowing bit,"
Said good old Cousin Jack
"And yet I always managed To punch the office clock."

FLORIDA STORM DID THIS

CHANGE HOUR FOR PUBLIC PROGRAM ON ARMISTICE DAY

Details for Observance of Day
are Discussed at Meeting
Thursday

Because of request from President Harding that the 2-minute period of silence be observed simultaneously all over the United States, the time for the public observance of Armistice day here has been changed from 12 o'clock Friday, Nov. 11, to 11 o'clock. The period of silence will be observed in Washington at 12 o'clock, which is 11 o'clock here.

Details were discussed at a meeting of committees Thursday afternoon in Elk club. It has been decided to hold a parade but the plans have not been entirely worked out. It is probable, however, that schools, military organizations, fraternal organizations, Red Cross, Scouts and others will be asked to participate.

An interesting program is being arranged for the service at Lawrence college. It is probable the crowd will congregate in front of Lawrence Memorial chapel.

It is the intention of the American Legion, which is arranging the celebration, to make it really worth while. Whether business houses will be asked to close depends on whether the government and the president declare the day a legal holiday. Congress already has passed resolutions declaring the day a national holiday and it is believed the governor will ask businesses to close down in a proclamation.

PLANTZ SUGGESTED TO HEAD STATE TEACHERS

The name of Dr. Samuel Plantz, president of Lawrence college, was presented to the convention of the Wisconsin Teachers' association in Milwaukee Thursday as a candidate for its president, in spite of the doctor's declaration that he was not a candidate. He received 19 votes. Lawrence college graduates were leaders in the movement to boom the Appleton man for the state presidency and it is said he would have been a favorite in the race if he had permitted his name to be used.

T. W. Boyce, principal of the Cass-st. school in Milwaukee, was elected president. Provision was made for employment of a paid secretary in a change in the association's constitution.

Richards Swamped With Thousands Of Questions

yourself and you will never have need to worry whether or not you are liked.

A. S.—Should I leave school and go into training for my future vocation?

Ans.—Make no change for another year and then you will be able to carry out your wishes.

R. A. J.—Will I ever be able to go on the stage?

Ans.—I would not advise you to as it is not suitable to your type, and conditions are such that it would prove unprofitable for you at this time. Yes; go ahead with your intentions to learn piano playing.

N. H. G.—Will I succeed in getting my pension?

Ans.—Yes, but it will take more time and constant application to get it.

E. L. W.—Who took my watch, and where can I get it back?

Ans.—I do not mention names of criminals in the newspaper, but I can assure you it was not the party whom you suspected. Your watch was taken by the short dark complexioned fellow whom you invited up to your room the night before. That is as much as I care to tell you now.

P. C.—Whom will I marry and when?

Ans.—You will marry the young man whom you are now engaged to. S. S.—Is it best for me to stay with my mother and step-dad?

Ans.—For the present, yes. Later on a desirable change will be offered you, but I don't see it advisable to change before then.

H. W. A.—Is the doctor treating me right? Is it true what he says all this? Should I do as my husband asks regarding this?

Ans.—Your question is just a bit too delicate to answer through the paper, and if you will bring it to the ladies only matinee Friday I will answer you then.

E. S.—Where is my diamond ring that I lost last week? Or was it stolen?

Ans.—Your ring is behind the broken or cracked mirror on the wash stand of a rear room in the house. Your baby brother hid it there for a joke and then forgot about it. You should not leave your rings lying around so carelessly.

G. R. A.—What became of the Liberty bonds that disappeared three months ago? Were they stolen? If so by whom?

Ans.—They are neither lost or stolen. You will find them among some old pictures in a large box in your basement where you have some pictures, and other little keep-sakes stored away. The bonds were accidentally gathered up with the papers and stored there.

G. B. J.—What will I do change my location or not?

Ans.—I advise a change of both location and climate as you never will have good health in this climate. The latter part of 1922 will be better for you financially also.

A. J. B.—Will my husband make good in his present business?

Ans.—Yes, fairly so, and your future looks comparatively bright.

E. M. H.—Am I going to make a trip east soon?

Ans.—I see you making the trip, but not as soon as planned. Do not consider marriage for at least another year as it would mean unhappiness for you.

W. J. C.—Do you advise the sale of the property we have been planning to build the garage on?

Ans.—It will prove far better to you financially to hold the property and build as this will be a good investment.

E. L. O.—My son has been unable to do anything for seven months. Will anything help him?

Ans.—The trouble has been principally caused through his nerves and improper functioning of the motor-nerve system. I can only advise you to immediately consult with a reputable specialist.

M. S.—I have been married twice. Will I ever live with either of my husbands again?

Ans.—No, for I see a third marriage for you in the not far distant future. It will prove to be the most happy for you.

R. L. B.—Is my brother Arthur still living? Where is he?

Ans.—I regret to advise you that your brother died at Waco, Texas, in 1918. Write to the present coroner of that city and I see that you will receive full information concerning your brother and his death. He was married at the time and his wife took care of the burial. His death was accidental.

These are all the questions for today, but another instalment will appear tomorrow. Watch for your answer if it has not already appeared or take your question to the theater where Richards will doubtless answer you during the mental portion of the big show.

MONEY AND SMOKES TAKEN BY BURGLARS

Burglars broke into the J. Rademacher store, 801 Superior-st., between 10:45 Thursday evening and Friday morning. About $4.50 in money, $1.50 worth of stamps and a few cigars were taken. Police are working on the case.

Entrance was effected through a rear window, the marauders breaking through boards and crawling through a rather small hole. The cash register was taken into a warehouse in the rear where it was opened. The safe, which contained a considerable sum of money, was not molested. A number of checks, negotiable, were not taken, probably overlooked by the burglars.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Koss are visiting at the Helmorman home.

MEAT should be eaten at least once each day. This does not necessarily mean that a meat course should be served the same way until it becomes monotonous, but served in various manners that will appeal to the appetite. Under favorable conditions with the better grades of meat repetition can easily be avoided. Good meat may be served as steamed dishes and with a sauce have a fine flavor and are palatable. Good steaks need not be warmed over, but may be cut in thin slices and served cold. Reheating steak spoils its fine flavor.

Responding to a popular demand based on the accomplishments of its boys' and girls' calf club started last fall, the First National bank plans to organize another calf club this fall, to be conducted in a similar manner except that it will be open to boys only, according to announcement of Paul O. Nyhus, farm agent.

Now that the calves in the first club are out of the genuinely calf class, the club will be known hereafter as the boys' and girls' heifer class, and the new organization as the boys' calf club.

Membership will be open to all farmer boys from 10 to 16 years living within a radius of 15 miles of Appleton, either in Outagamie or neighboring counties. The bank will finance purchase of the calves as before, accepting the youngster's note and permitting him to pay for the animal when it produces a milk revenue.

Parents in various parts of the county whose boys did not enter the first club are urging their sons to enrol in any new one that might be formed. They found the training in purebred cattle raising to be of distinct value, as well as teaching the boy responsibility and business methods.

Date of organization and other plans are to be announced later.

"Wonder What a Shopper Thinks About?"

You've seen the cartoons in the Chicago Tribune by Clare Briggs:

But really we DO wonder what our friends think about when they come in this store:

—what their impressions are

—how they like the way we display things

—what they think of our salespeople

—do the elevator girls give them information quickly

—have the saleswomen in the ready-to-wear some interesting suggestions about new styles

—do the mail order girls wrap mailing packages with just as much enthusiasm as the best girl in the hosiery section.

We welcome suggestions — we've had lots of good ones. We'll be glad to have more, and the best ones often come from outside the "family."

"Wonder what a shopper thinks about?"

Be Sure to Remember the

Tippy Toe Bubble Book Party

At The Appleton Theatre Next

Tuesday at 4 and 7:30

The party is absolutely free for the children and their mothers—and will be the most enjoyable event in the Appleton juvenile world this season. At each performance—in the afternoon and evening, we expect a thousand guests.

On the stage will be Old King Cole's castle and an enormous Mother Goose book. This beautiful scenery has been brought from New York for this occasion and is unusually handsome.

Fifteen little girls from Appleton, who you all know, will be dressed to represent the familiar Mother Goose characters.

Lots of Music and Games

There will be music and games and pantomime—more fun than a circus. It's all planned for you—it's free—so come. Ask Mother to bring you. She, too, will be very welcome.

THE PETTIBONE-PEABODY CO.

Free tickets can be had for the asking in the Fourth Floor Children's department or the Basement Toy Section. There are still lots of seats but be sure and get a ticket tomorrow—the time is getting short.
